What is ICSIC?

The 2019 International Cyber Security and Intelligence Conference (ICSIC) provides a rare opportunity for Businesses, start-ups, IT & Business Executives, Government Functionaries, Researchers, Academics, Management, and Ambassadors to interact, learn, network and discuss new methods, solutions, strategies and practices to keep their organizations safe from the flurry of cyber-attacks.

Why Partner with ICSIC?

This event offers a unique platform for your organization to showcase your business, products, services, and innovations to the rest of the world through media access, networking, organized meetings with other companies, new business partners, and possible access to new cyber security research. It also demonstrates your level of support and commitment to the Global Cyber Security campaign.

ICCSIC offers five personalized sponsorship packages including other sponsorship opportunities that provide companies with a choice of exposure at the conference and an opportunity to channel their resources toward their interests. Each sponsorship package has standard features plus added-value benefits depending on the level of financial commitment.

Please see features contained in each package category in the following few pages.
